

Coming Soon!

Portland's First
Urban Fruit Trail

Fallen Fruit & CALDERA

You're invited to adopt a fruit tree of your own and to participate in a public fruit tree planting.

Urban Fruit Trail is a public participatory artwork by Fallen Fruit.

ADOPT A TREE!
PLANT IT!
MAP IT!
SHARE IT!

FREE TO PARTICIPATE!

Saturday, November 14

10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Open School North

(7602 N Emerald Ave. Portland, OR 97217)

It's easy to be part of the URBAN FRUIT TRAIL! All you need to do is:

1. Have sunny space along a sidewalk, alley, or fence on private property that you would like to plant a shared fruit tree on.
2. Commit to having the space watered regularly.
3. Agree to share the fruit tree with neighbors and passersby.

Urban Fruit Trail partners include:

Portland Fruit Tree Project

Root Pouch, Portland Art Museum,

Friends of Trees, and Concordia University.

For more information or to reserve your tree, contact Caldera's Creative Director, Elizabeth Quinn, at 541.419.9836 or Elizabeth.Quinn@CalderaArts.org.